EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Clackamas County Cable Communications serves the public interest providing high quality cable programming. It is committed to enriching the lives of the residents of Clackamas County by communicating information over Public, Educational and Government (PEG) access channels. These channels provide a cable television venue for residents, schools, and County government.

OVERVIEW

Clackamas County is mostly rural, covering 1,870 square miles. Only 12 percent of that land is urban. There are 16 incorporated cities, four Urban Renewal districts, four hamlets and one village in the County.

U.S. Census Bureau data from 2010 shows a population of 401,515. The Oregon Office of Economic Analysis lists Clackamas County as a stable population area. The solid population coupled with cable issues in broadband, telephony, service for those residents caught in the digital divide, institutional networks (I-Nets), and demand for telecommuting reinforces the important role of PEG television programming. Total expenditures for PEG operations for fiscal year 2015-2016 were $313,346 for capital equipment and facilities.

PUBLIC ACCESS (WILLAMETTE FALLS MEDIA CENTER)

As part of a community effort, Willamette Falls Media Center (WFMC), a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization, operates and maintains PEG access channels and production resources on behalf of the communities they serve.

The WFMC facility, which is located in Oregon City, includes video production studios, editing suites, portable equipment for certified producer use, video playback capacity, training space and business offices. The organization facilitates the production of locally-based content by community members, non-profit organizations, churches, government agencies, and educational entities. It also coordinates the cablecast of programming on several designated community access channels.

EDUCATIONAL ACCESS (NORTH CLACKAMAS SCHOOL DISTRICT)

The Sabin-Schellenberg Center works with the North Clackamas School District to educate K-12 students. There are 185 high school students enrolled in the media production programs with additional production teams at several schools. The program draws students from Clackamas, Milwaukie and Rex Putnam high schools.

More than 5,400 hours of programming aired on their educational access channel. This curriculum is affiliated with Oregon Associated Press Broadcasters. The students are members of the Varsity TV organization. Local media professionals assist the program and mentor the students.

EDUCATIONAL ACCESS (OREGON CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT)

The Oregon City School District broadcasts live school board meetings throughout the year. These broadcasts are an important part of the district's overall communication strategy to reach households throughout the school community. The meetings are broadcast live by the WFMC and replayed throughout the following weeks. Several meetings of the school board are recorded and rebroadcast on the WFMC public access channel.

EDUCATIONAL ACCESS (WEST LINN-WILSONVILLE SCHOOL DISTRICT)

West Linn-Wilsonville Schools broadcast on Comcast Channel 28 into the communities of West Linn and Wilsonville. The channel is used to re-broadcast the most recent school board meetings and to run reader board style announcements about upcoming events.

The West Linn-Wilsonville School District has an enrollment of approximately 9,300 students within three high schools, three middle schools and nine primary schools. The District is in the planning stages for rebuilding one of their existing primary schools and is also building a new middle school.

The school district comprises the municipalities of Wilsonville and West Linn along with the unincorporated land between the two municipalities.

The curriculum is broad and deep with a large percentage of students going on to higher education. It is a high-performing district that has a deeply engaged and supportive community

EDUCATIONAL ACCESS (CLACKAMAS COMMUNITY COLLEGE)

The Clackamas Community College Art Department, with oversight by the Clackamas Community College TV steering committee, manages the operation of the college television channel. The community college broadcasts programming that includes instructional videos, college activities news, live events, and creative work produced by students in the Digital Media Communications program, including short films and motion capture animations. The channel is focused on offering access to its instructional content and also serves as the public information source for the college.

Clackamas Community College has campuses in Oregon City, North Clackamas and Wilsonville, and extension sites in Canby and Molalla. It offers associate degrees and certificates, college transfer degrees, career technical education, literacy/basic skills, community education, business training, distance learning and partnerships for four-year degree programs. There are more than 39,000 enrolled students. The college district includes all of Clackamas County except Lake Oswego, Sandy, Damascus, and Boring school districts.

GOVERNMENT ACCESS (CLACKAMAS COUNTY)

The Clackamas County Government Channel (CCGC) serves the public interest by promoting the communities of Clackamas County and making government more accessible and understandable to its residents. The channel offers information about county services, activities, community life, and history of the region as well as live and recorded coverage of public meetings. Productions include coverage of the Clackamas County Board of County Commissioners meetings, summaries of basic government services and how to access them, documentaries, and programs showcasing a variety of community events.

CCGC aired approximately 7,300 hours of programming from July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2016, with a daily program average of approximately 20 hours. This included live broadcasts of the Board of County Commission meetings and Land Use hearings. The remainder of the viewing day was filled with public announcements carried in a reader board format. A total of 133 new programs, promos, public service announcements and station IDs were produced resulting in nine national and international awards for various productions in Fiscal Year 2015-2016.

INSTITUTIONAL NETWORK (I-NET)

Clackamas County Department of Technology Services monitors the County's I-Net system. The network is designed to link all county offices and most emergency responders with the highest level of communication systems.

The network was created through an $11.1 million in funding ($7.8 million from the federal ARRA Grant and $3.3 million from county contributions). The network brings affordable high-speed service to more than 176 community anchor sights countywide, along a 200 mile fiber network system. This network of fiber optic cables connects schools, colleges, libraries, medical, police and fire stations, and other public agencies.

PUBLIC ACCESS SUMMARY

WILLAMETTE FALLS MEDIA CENTER (WFMC)

Clackamas County Cable Communications contracts with WFMC to support public access opportunities within Clackamas County. Through a contract service agreement with WFMC, the County provided $69,942 in PEG funding for facilities and equipment in Fiscal Year 2015-2016. The contract service agreement also provides $54,000 to WFMC from the county's general fund toward operations in Fiscal Year 2015-16.

As contracted, the media center and its resources are accessible to all residents living in the unincorporated areas of the County. WFMC also contracts with the cities of Oregon City, Wilsonville, Milwaukie and Damascus making the facilities and equipment available to those residents. WFMC has three full studio spaces. Studio A, which is approximately 1,200 sq. ft., houses a small audio booth, a green screen, LED and florescent lighting, and is equipped with a TriCaster 460 digital switcher featuring multiple digital virtual sets and three Sony HD/4K cameras. Studio B is approximately 450 sq. ft. and is ideal for smaller, intimate settings. This studio is equipped with a TriCaster 410 digital switcher and three Sony HD/4K cameras. The kitchen studio features all of the amenities of a working kitchen including functioning utilities and appliances, in addition to an overhead Sony HD remote control camera to get the best view of the prep table.

The facility also provides on-site live event coverage through the use of a fully equipped mobile production van featuring the Broadcast PIX Roadie switcher for a multi-camera production and live streaming if desired. Additionally, producers are provided with access to HD field production equipment and post production edit suites. Both PC and Macintosh based editing systems are used. The media center offers classes and workshops in all facets of media production and techniques.

The 2015-16 fiscal year was a tremendous success for the media center, with concentration on strategic goals that would create new learning opportunities, develop new collaborations that support ongoing growth, promote a more inclusive community network, and upgrade studio and field equipment. Additionally, as a non-profit, a constant focal point each year is on identifying and obtaining sustainable funding sources.

Working with industry professionals, WFMC developed a vast list of educational opportunities. From a new three-part series of advanced videography classes to lighting and voice over workshops, a targeted course list has been created to give producers the skills to create a more professional look to their programs. Furthermore, WFMC instructors developed a comprehensive workshop, aimed at elevating the presence of local non-profits and small businesses in the community. Each workshop is customized to the individual organization and from script-to-screen, participants are given the skills and tools necessary to create a professional program that will effectively share their mission on multiple media outlets.

Expanding media services to support a more inclusive network of community producers was an integral step in strengthening community connectivity. WFMC accomplished this task by developing an equitable fee schedule specifically for out-of-service area residents. The fee schedule allows access through a yearly participation fee and small fees for classes and equipment rentals.

The service associated costs are minimal and comparable to other community media centers in the region. Realizing that these costs may prohibit some residents from participating, WFMC developed a sweat equity program. Through this program residents can volunteer with WFMC and earn financial credit toward participation charges, class and workshop fees, and equipment rentals.

Through generous PEG contributions from Clackamas County during FY 15-16, WFMC was able to upgrade some of the equipment in both Studio A and B. Each studio is now equipped with new HD cameras and tripods, allowing producers full 4K acquisition. PEG funds also supported equipment upgrades to the mobile unit, the kitchen studio, and channel management areas of the facility.

WFMC continues to remain focused on expanding available services to accommodate community, civic, and educational needs and defining new opportunities for community involvement. More information about the media center and the services available to the community can be found on the website at www.wfmcstudios.org.

LOCATION

The Willamette Falls Media Center is located at 1101 Jackson Street, Oregon City, Oregon. Hours of operation are Tuesday through Friday, 10am – 7pm and Saturday 12pm – 7pm.

PROGRAMMING

During the 2015-16 fiscal year, 36 active producers in the unincorporated area of the county utilized editing suites, studio space, and field equipment over 373 times, totaling 4,088 hours of community use. These users provided 282 programs for cablecast, generating more than 2,500 playback hours of local origin, public access programming on WFMC managed channels. Exhibit A provides a detailed random sampling of one week of WFMC's playback schedule.

Community announcements, which are submitted by the greater Clackamas County, are cablecast in a bulletin board format, in between produced programs.

STAFFING

WFMC's current staff consists of an Executive Director, Executive Assistant, Bookkeeper, Engineer, Studio Specialist, Playback Operator, and two on-location meeting videographers.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Implemented new educational opportunities including an advanced series of professional videography courses, local non-profit and small business workshops, and expanded youth afterschool and summer camp programs.

EDUCATIONAL ACCESS SUMMARY

NORTH CLACKAMAS SCHOOL DISTRICT (NCSD)

Clackamas County Cable Communications provided the NCSD with $64,208 in PEG funding for facilities and equipment in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 for their Education Channel 28 for continued equipment acquisition of the Educational access channel. In exchange for the contribution, NCSD agreed to continue to provide programming for the Educational access channel. The NCSD contributed over $103,000 toward operation of the channel, excluding facility support.

LOCATION

The channel is located at two facilities. The main studio is located at the Schellenberg Technology Center, 14450 SE Johnson Road, Milwaukie, Oregon. The playback is located at the Sabin Skills Center, 14211 SE Johnson Road, Milwaukie. The two facilities are linked by a fiber optic connection that is currently undergoing some repair and maintenance.

PROGRAMMING

The NCS D Educational access channel exceeded the annual average requirement of 30 hours of video programming per week. Total hours of programming for July 1, 2015 to June 12, 2016 was over 5,500 hours. A district reader board and audio from KMHD was on the air when video programming was not showing. A District-supported website enables selected video programs to be streamed on demand. The District and the Technology and Information Services Department has also established a YouTube channel, NC12MediaCorner, and uploads selected video programs to that channel.

STAFFING

The NCS D’s Technology and Information Services Department employs a full-time certified video production specialist who supports the access channel. In addition, the Sabin-Schellenberg Professional Center (SSC) employs one full-time Certified Instructor, and one full-time Technical Assistant.

STUDENTS

Currently, there are 240 student producers enrolled in media production programs. Interest continues to be high with an additional sports broadcasting class being included in the program.

OVERALL EDUCATIONAL ACCESS GOALS

- Expand opportunities to middle school students in the district to learn more about professional broadcasting projects. This year NCS D began a partnership that has grown for students at Rowe Middle School and their instructor who are now producing a monthly news show. They work with SSC broadcasting students to complete their final newscast on the set in the SSC broadcast studio.
- Inform local residents about the organizations, operations, and services of the NCS D and its departments.
- Provide students interested in broadcasting a hands-on learning experience and a place to showcase their educational projects.
- Provide and maintain, through the advice of a professional technical skills advisory panel, professional broadcast standards, equipment, and education so students are college and career ready.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Students in the Broadcasting and Social Media program began the year early with the reports of the shootings at Umpqua Community College. First level students produced a live one-hour report from the NCSD broadcast studio while calling sources throughout the state providing professional coverage on the event as it transpired.

For the fifth year in a row, students in the program competed with honors in the regional competition at the Clackamas Community College Skills Competition. They took top honors in both broadcast journalism and video production.

Program graduate Hope Alexander, who won at the All American High School Film Festival, was honored again this year for a production she made while at Sabin-Schellenberg. She also worked with current students on various projects.

Two student producers were recognized for their work on documentaries about racism and on teenagers distracted while driving. Those productions not only looked at the issues but included interviews that grabbed the attention of viewers.

The department has contracts with the organizations that license the use of music this year. As part of the department’s expansion into Internet streaming of the campus radio station, copyright music will be covered with the licensing organizations of ASCAP, BMI, and Sound Exchange for next year.

Thanks to the generous grants from Clackamas County, the Broadcasting and Social Media program was able to expand the chroma-key background in the television studio enabling producers to create more realistic sets for various productions.

Students continue to produce a variety of programming from news, music videos, original programming, and productions for various district departments who sought student production crews this year.

Students have been able to produce a number of district programs including those that provide information for families who may be dealing with mental health issues and risk of suicide. Another production was completed in cooperation with the Bus Project with the hope of increasing voter registration and student interest in the political process.

The department continues to be strongly involved members with the Oregon Media Producers Association and is the only high school broadcasting department recognized as members in Oregon. Students have been able to work with professionals and to interview AFTRA/SAG members as part of the cast on an independent production.

FUTURE PLANS

- NCS D has begun the process of updating the server to provide a higher quality playback system. Part 1 was purchased to begin using the Ultranexus HD system with VOD. Components for this system will continue to be purchased next year.
- Continue the expansion of “Virtual Set” or “Green Screen” use in the Schellenberg Studio through professional training and examples.
- In November, students will produce live election night coverage working in tandem with a team of middle school students, with the expectation to work with industry partners to program three hours of coverage focusing primarily on Clackamas County results along with state and national races.
- Bring additional live studio and location productions to cable and especially to the web.
- Produce “Town Hall”-type programs bringing the community together for live shows at the Sabin-Schellenberg Technical Professional Center, beginning with NC12 School Board Special meetings.
- Provide additional support and training to produce a variety of programs to be cablecast and uploaded for streaming.
- Expand opportunities for the four District middle schools to access and use the NCS D studio.

OREGON CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT (OCSD)

Clackamas County Cable Communications provided the OCSD with $13,876 in PEG funding for facilities and equipment in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 to upgrade the OCSD Board Room audio capabilities and to reduce the impact of power fluctuations on equipment which is used for live broadcast of various Board meetings throughout the school year. This live broadcast of District meetings, in addition to other District programming, is an important part of the District’s overall communication strategy to reach households throughout the school community and provide opportunities for student-led productions. The Board meetings are broadcast live by the Willamette Falls Media Center (WFMC) and then replayed at various times throughout the following weeks. Also, the school developed programming will be recorded and broadcast at later dates/times by WFMC. The OCSD Board Room is strategically located across the street from WFMC in Oregon City. Several meetings of the OCSD Board are also recorded in the Board Room and then rebroadcast at a later time via WFMC and the Public access channel.

LOCATION

The Board Room of OCSD is located on the Jackson Campus at 1306 12th Street, Oregon City, Oregon. A fiber optic link connects the Board Room to the WFMC located at 1101 Jackson Street, Oregon City, Oregon. Programming is currently broadcast and recorded at the Jackson Campus location and then transferred to the WFMC for later rebroadcast if necessary. Future programming via the WFMC mobile production unit will be recorded and broadcast at later times via WFMC.

PROGRAMMING

The OCSD provided an estimated 60+ hours of original programs, including Board of Education and Budget Committee meetings. Many hours of rebroadcast allows OCSD patrons to be informed of current issues and decisions of the District by later viewing on the Public access channel.

STAFFING

The District contracts with an hourly production assistant to facilitate the live broadcast and recording of almost every Board of Education meeting throughout the year. District staff provides support to the production assistant as needed to ensure quality programming and facility support.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Installation of new audio amplifiers and mixers to support new microphones purchased in 2014-15.
- Installation of new battery backup unit to reduce impact of frequent power fluctuations on live broadcasts.
- Replacement of analog video recording device with digital DVR for digital distribution of programming.

LOCATION

All programming originates from the School District office located at 22210 SW Stafford Road, Tualatin, Oregon. Programming is sent back to Comcast services over their network.

PROGRAMMING

The WL-WSD uses the channel to re-broadcast the most recent School Board meetings and to run periodic reader board style announcements about upcoming events.

FUTURE PLANS

- Upgrade encoding equipment with HD capabilities.
- Improve production capabilities.

HIGHER EDUCATION ACCESS SUMMARY

CLACKAMAS COMMUNITY COLLEGE (CCC)

Clackamas County Cable Communications provided CCC with $50,000 in PEG funding for facilities and equipment in Fiscal Year 2015-2016, of which CCC spent the full amount. This funding is generated from PEG fees collected through cable providers in unincorporated Clackamas County. The Clackamas Community College channel is broadcast in the unincorporated areas of Clackamas County. CCC programming is received on channels 9, 27, 58, 60 or 98 based on the individual cable company channel lineup.

LOCATION

The higher education channel operation is located on the CCC Campus, 19600 Molalla Avenue, Oregon City, Oregon. The main college campus is an ideal hub for this type of channel.

PROGRAMMING

Programming of the channel is not regulated by any franchise requirements. Over the last year CCCTV added an additional 45 locally produced segments, totaling 7 hours and 44 minutes, to its programming schedule. Exhibit C provides a random detailed sampling of the CCC programming. College announcements are carried in a reader board format when produced programming is not airing.

STAFFING

CCCTV is staffed by a part-time classified programming manager who schedules and encodes programming, shoots and edits informational college productions, and troubleshoots the cablecast system. The programming manager is supervised by the Art Department Chair with assistance of the Video Production/Film full-time faculty member. Budget and programming oversight is provided through a steering committee comprised of interdisciplinary faculty and college leadership. Additionally, the college supports operations through information technology and the public information officer and marketing department, Non-college freelance videographers are periodically contracted on an as-needed basis.

EDUCATION/ORIGINAL CONTENT CREATION

The purchase of industry-standard equipment through PEG funding allows the College to keep its curriculum current with the demands of industry partners in Film and Media. Students are gaining the workforce skills needed to be successful in this growing sector of the Clackamas County economy. Original media content was created by students with PEG funded equipment such as the Arri Amira Cinema camera, Phasespace Motion Capture system, Drone equipment, and GoPro 360 degree cameras as part of the Digital Media Communications (DMC) program. The DMC coursework teaches students skills such as digital filmmaking and advanced digital filmmaking; how to create computer generated animations and special effects; sound techniques; screenwriting; and broadcast journalism, directing, and digital video editing.

In addition to their coursework, students continue to gain additional experience as interns on productions such as the Electric Entertainment show “The Librarians” and most recently through a partnership to produce a Public Safety Announcement on pedestrian safety led by David Cress, director of “Portlandia.”

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- CCC PEG fund purchases from FY 2013-2016 have been invested in multiple professional level cameras, light sets, grip and electric gear, motion capture equipment, a DJI video drone, etc. and have provided access to industry standard equipment for students.
- Experience using PEG funded equipment has helped students find internships and jobs in the Portland/Metro area.
- CCC has developed and implemented Digital Media curriculum at the college that trains students on the latest industry-standard media production equipment which has resulted in over 100 hours of original programming content for CCCTV.

- CCC has steadily developed, expanded, and explored new avenues for content creation such as the pilot taping of CCC Board meetings, internal marketing of services, and relationship building with the City of Milwaukie, Clackamas County Government Channel (CCGC), and the Willamette Falls Media Center (WFMC).
- CCC has instituted a CCCTV Oversight Committee to assist in developing and implementing operational and long-term plans.

INSTITUTIONAL NETWORK SUMMARY (I-NET)

CLACKAMAS BROADBAND EXCHANGE (CBX)

The CBX network is designed to provide low cost, point-to-point network access to public and commercial entities throughout Clackamas County including libraries, medical facilities, police, fire stations, and other public agencies. Broadband connections using CBX will be at less cost and will have higher bandwidth speed and more capacity than existing I-Net connections. For example, a pair of dark fiber that typically provides 1 gigabit of bandwidth can be obtained for $255.00 per month for public institutions.

The design of the network infrastructure has allowed Clackamas County to plan for future growth. The CBX network partners and interconnects with local service providers to allow them access to the state-of-the-art infrastructure in order to enhance and expand their current services to local businesses and households. CBX is part of the comprehensive Clackamas County Communications Plan to increase high-speed communications within the County.

CBX had a busy Fiscal Year 2015-2016, deploying fiber laterals to more than 19 new sites. The West Linn – Wilsonville School District had an I-Net created and now has dark fiber connecting all of their school locations. This I-Net was completed by deploying new fiber laterals as well as a collaborative effort with the City of Wilsonville interconnecting with the new fiber laterals to complete the school I-Net.

CURRENT GOALS

- Incorporating a public-private partnership among government, non-profit and for-profit entities, and other key community stakeholders.
- Deploy fiber to areas not covered by the current network, most notably remote areas and areas west of the Willamette River. In Fiscal Year 2016-2017, CBX will deploy an I-Net for the Lake Oswego School District.
- Deploy fiber to state sites to better connect Clackamas County to the Oregon Department of Administrative Services.
- Spur economic growth in designated County industrial and enterprising zones.
